

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF ONE AND ILLNESS OF FIVE

Perry Bramel, Prominent Land Owner Dies Late Saturday—Five Relatives Are Now Ill—Poison of Some Sort Is Suspected.

Deep mystery surrounds the death late Saturday of Perry Bramel and the illness of five of his relatives, who were at his home. The family physician and County Health Officer have not yet solved direct cause of the mysterious sickness.

Several days ago Mr. Perry Bramel, aged about 69, and a bachelor living by himself in the Oakwood neighborhood between Mt. Gilead and Lewisburg, was taken ill and a number of his relatives came to his assistance. Finally Mrs. Jessie Beckett, a registered nurse of Flemingsburg, was called in to care for the sick man. Dr. Long, the family physician, was called and treated the sick man who seemed to be suffering from diarrhea. In a short time the nurse became affected and on Saturday was so ill that she had to be removed to her home in Flemingsburg. Then one by one Mrs. Ahner Bramel, Mrs. Ben Lahres, Mrs. William King and Mrs. Charles Hopper, relatives who were at the home, took ill and at 5 o'clock Saturday evening Mr. Bramel died.

Dr. Long called in Dr. J. H. Rice, the County Health Officer, for consultation and investigation before Mr. Bramel had died and the two physicians came to the conclusion that the illness was caused by some sort of ptomaine poisoning. They were unable, however, to fix the direct cause of the illness. Dr. Rice carefully examined the house and the dishes used as well as the food used but found no traces of poison. Samples of water from a well and from a cistern on the farm were taken and sent to Lexington for a careful examination to ascertain whether or not the water was responsible. While awaiting a report from the water, Dr. Rice has issued orders that the water not be used and that no one eat at the house.

Coroner Higgins was not called in for an examination and Mr. Bramel will be buried this afternoon at the Maysville cemetery.

Reports today from the nurse and the relatives, who were taken ill, are to the effect that they are all much better and all will recover in a short time.

AGED WOMAN SUFFERING FROM PTOMAIN POISONING

Mrs. Mary Gallenstein, Aged Citizen of the Washington Neighborhood, in Critical Condition From Poisoning.

Mrs. Mary Gallenstein, aged resident of the Washington neighborhood and mother of Mr. Mike Gallenstein, well known West Third street grocer, is in a very critical condition at her home in the county suffering from ptomaine poison and because of her advanced age it is hardly thought that she will recover.

Mrs. Gallenstein was taken ill on Thursday of last week. She returned to her home from the home of a son where she had been spending the day and after unhitching her horse from the buggy went to the house. She became quite drowsy and soon became very ill. A trained nurse from Cincinnati is taking care of Mrs. Gallenstein and physicians are doing all within their power to restore her to health. A report from her bedside this afternoon was to the effect that she showed no improvement but that physicians thought that she was holding her own.

While a direct cause for the poisoning cannot be assigned, it is thought that a rabbit which Mrs. Gallenstein ate a few days ago might have caused the poisoning.

CLIMAX IN THE TREATY FIGHT HAS BEEN REACHED

If Peace Treaty Is Defeated Resolution Declaring War Ended Will Be Offered.

Washington, November 17. — The most critical week in the peace treaty fight was opened today.

The fate of this resolution of ratification, now being drafted by the Senate, was expected to be settled at a conference between President Wilson and Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, administration leader, today.

Unless Wilson reverses his previous stand, he will decree defeat for the resolution, as it contains reservations which, the president holds, nullify Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant.

Hitchcock then plans to come forward with a resolution of straight, unqualified ratification, which the opposition presumably will heat. A compromise will follow, Hitchcock believed.

But Senator Henry C. Lodge and other opposition leaders are preparing to resist any endeavor to introduce a new resolution of ratification after the one now in process of formation is beaten.

They assert defeat of this resolution kills the treaty, and their plan is to have Congress pass a resolution declaring the war ended immediately after defeat of ratification. Arrangements for negotiating a separate peace with Germany may be taken up later. The Senate was to take up more of the Lodge reservations today. It was expected the entire reservation program, including proposals put forward by senators other than Lodge, would be disposed of by tomorrow and that a vote on ratification would follow immediately.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL

The Epworth League of the Third Street M. E. Church will have a big get-together-social next Friday night. Over a hundred special invitations will be sent out this week. FAILURE OF FITTINGS TO ARRIVE DELAYS USE OF PUMP Cincinnati Concern Promises to Deliver Needed Fittings For Kenova Pump Tonight—May Be Working Tomorrow.

The new electric water pump leased from Kenova, W. Va., which arrived here Saturday and which will be used as an emergency pump to relieve the present water situation in Maysville, will likely be working sometime tomorrow.

The failure of certain needed fittings to arrive yesterday or today from a Cincinnati concern has delayed the pump's operation but fortunately the old pumps have been kept going and the city has not been out of water today although for a time Saturday night and Sunday morning there was no water in the mains.

The Cincinnati manufacturing concern promised the Maysville Water Company over the telephone this morning that they would make the needed fittings immediately and send them to Maysville on C. & O. No. 4 tonight. Workmen will begin immediately upon their arrival to install the pump and it should be working sometime tomorrow. This pump is practically new and when it begins operation it will be a great relief to all.

ADVERTISING

Some of the best of literature these days seems to be in advertising.

That is, if literature is for the purpose of conveying thoughts, ideas and to promote action—word carpentering to these ends.

It is true that there is no mystic poetry in advertising, nor romance save as it is sometimes used to picture the profit possibilities of far off mining and oil regions, to appeal to the imaginations of those of us to whom distant pastures always seem the greenest.

The average advertisement stimulates more thought, and action upon the thought, and by its appeal to our sense of pleasure or profit than any other literary form.

And it does it in less space and in a fewer number of words.

The reason for this economy and efficiency is this:

An advertiser pays a large sum for the white space and he naturally is economical with it.

More thought is put upon the space.

He conveys the idea and promotes the action with the fewest number of carefully selected expressions.

Every word, phrase, sentence and paragraph is weighed to this end.

Other forms of writing are paid for by the number of words or space occupied, and there is not the natural incentive to economy of expression as in advertising.

Advertisers, paying large sums for white space as they do, have found it economical to employ men skilled in the art of expression—word carpentering; for more results are obtained for the expenditure in white space.

In this way some of the best of writers of the younger generation have been drawn into the advertising field—men with reputations in other and wider literary fields.

To go over the files of any newspaper or magazine is to find a vast improvement in the advertising within a very few years.

There is more logic and reasoning in advertising—more real salesmanship.

There is the same eye appeal that the skilled personal salesman might make through the ear of a possible buyer.

Highly trained artists—true artists—have been drawn into advertising field, men as skilled in the handling of form and color as those in the composition of the text.

Advertising today not only is interesting and attractive, but it is truly salesmanship on paper.—Cincinnati Post.

NEWSPAPER TELL STORY

Credit for making effective work against a great health menace possible is given to the newspapers of the United States by Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, eminent physician and managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association.

"Appeal to the people in these modern days," says Dr. Hatfield, "depend largely on quick transmission for their effectiveness. Word of mouth is too slow, and in many cases would reach only a few thousand people before the opportune time for action had expired. Only through the press can a message be promptly carried to millions. This method has been the main reliance of the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated organizations in their efforts to arouse the people to a realization of the great disease menace confronting the country, and the response of the newspapers has always been timely and generous.

"Without the vision of the American editor, who came to the front so strongly for all patriotic campaigns during the war and for every other movement for the public good, it would be impossible to raise enough money to carry on the intensive campaign against tuberculosis now getting under way, even though such a movement is vitally necessary to protect and conserve the health of the nation. Again the press has come forward with all the power at its command. It is telling the people in every corner of the country of their danger and the necessity of taking steps to combat it. It is convincing them of the wisdom of providing the required funds—estimated at approximately $6,500,000—by buying Red Cross Christmas Seals liberally during the nation-wide ten-day sale which is to begin December 1st. The press, in short, is assuring the success of the great campaign against 'consumption', a service for which anti-tuberculosis organizations everywhere owe the newspapers of the country a debt of gratitude."

WOULD PROHIBIT RED FLAG

Congress continues to make its fight against radicalism through the introduction of bills intended to curb the activities of the "Red" element of the country. The latest bill of this character has been introduced by Representative J. M. C. Smith, of Michigan. The bill provides that the display of a red flag at any public gathering would be "prima facie evidence" that it was being used as a "symbol of anarchy." A punishment of five years imprisonment and $1,000 fine is provided for violation of the measure.

BURKE WOULD PROTEST AGAINST COAL STRIKE

Under a resolution introduced by Representative W. J. Burke of Pennsylvania, the President would be authorized to take over and operate the coal mines for one year or as long after that as in his discretion might prove necessary.

Representative Harry E. Hull, of Iowa, has introduced a bill which would create a department of aeronautics.

The Democratic banner in Massachusetts did not wave very long.

SOCIALISTS GIVE UP THEIR FAITH
IN SHORT ORDER

Interesting Story of How Texans
Were Converted From Their Socialist Faith.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Sept. 21, 1919: "Desdemona, Tex. — For many years the hotbed of Socialism in Texas was in Eastland County, with Hog Town now called Desdemona, as the storm center of agitators who preached the doctrine of equal distribution of wealth among all the people. Now these very same men, who cast their votes for Eugene Debs for President, and prior to becoming Socialists, were pioneer members of the Populist party, are simply reeking with wealth—not imaginary prosperity but real coin—coddies of it. Incidentally, it may be mentioned that not one of them is saying a word about dividing up his fortune with the 'downtrodden poor.' "Oil caused the transformation. Strange to say, the owners of virtually all the farms that now comprise the heart of Desdemona oil field were Socialists. Many of them belonged to the more rabid faction. One of the most radical was the editor and publisher of the Rebel, which was the recognized organ of the party in Texas.

The Rebel Suppressed

"Postmaster-General Albert Burleson found it necessary to suppress the Rebel early in the war because of its alleged unpatriotic utterances. Hickey was not only a Socialist in his writings, but he acted and looked the part. He became the owner of a piece of land near Desdemona. It was worth little as a farm. Then came the oil boom. Hickey has risen from almost poverty to millionaire in the last eight months. No one hears him talking Socialism any more.

"In former years one of the great delights of the Socialists of the Hog town community and other parts of Eastland County was to gather in annual encampment at Ellison Springs. They made it the occasion of solving all the problems of the country and digging hard into the ribs of the 'capitalistic class.' At these encampments Hickey was wont to orate long and loudly on economic questions from the standpoint of the radicals. From the encampment the Socialist farmers and business men with their wives and children would travel back to their homes in canvas-covered wagons to take up the dull routine of work that promised them no remuneration beyond a bare living.

100 Now Are Millionaires

"More than 100 of these men, who only a year ago were preaching Socialism and struggling to make both ends meet, are now millionaires; several of them are worth in actual cash $10,000,000 to $25,000,000 each all made out of oil leases and petroleum production. Another 500 Socialists of Eastland and Stephens counties are already well along toward the million mark.

"As a result of this wealth, or perhaps because they are too busy piling up more, there will be no Socialist encampment at Ellison Springs this year. If by any chance these men should get together, it would be a convention of more millionaires than ever before assembled at one time in Texas."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

"No local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hitt's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hitt's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

WHITE PLAGUE IS MORE FATAL THAN GREAT WAR

World's Work For November Points Out Menace of Tuberculosis in America and Method of Fighting It With Red Cross Christmas Seals.

In an article in the November issue of World's Work the menace of tuberculosis is strikingly presented when it is stated that the white plague kills more Americans in a year than were killed in the great war in the same time. World's Work says the war on the white plague will be successful only in the degree that it is persistent.

The article in World's Work, which bears the caption, "The Tuberculosis Challenge," says:

"The National Tuberculosis Association is engaged in a battle in which it will be successful only in the degree that it is persistent. The campaign faces much-goaded popular sensations which are resolved to relax at any cost, and thus it finds the task more difficult. Because the 'white plague' lacks sensational elements it does not command attention and many people think that the subject does not concern them. But we felt a certain concern when the Germans were accounting for the deaths of some 60,000 Americans—how, then, should we feel toward the enemy at home which, during the same period of time, took toll of 150,000 American lives? The good-natured public is slow to wrath, but slower still to comprehend the truth when doing so requires it to change established notions. It is high time that we set ourselves right and realize that tuberculosis claims a victim out of every three persons who die between the ages of 18 and 45—the productive time of life. It is estimated that the economic waste from the disease in the United States is $500,000,000 annually. The fight against this ravager is more than a question of health—it is one of economics and production as well. And there is a good prospect of making progress against the disease. That tuberculosis is both curable and preventable has been established beyond doubt by science. We cannot afford to ignore the challenge.

"This year, through the influence of war, the United States is faced with an unprecedented shortage of homes—a shortage which makes overcrowding in our cities more intense. Tuberculosis thrives in a crowd; bad air and unsanitary conditions make it flourish. But science offers methods which will more than offset the handicap, and it only remains for the public to support the organizations which use the power of science. Red Cross Christmas Seals will soon be here, and their sales will register the amount of fight which the public is resolved to subscribe during the coming year."

PLAN MERCHANT MARINE TO LEAD ENTIRE WORLD

Chairman Greene, of House Committee, Says U. S. Must Take Advantage of Opportunities.

Washington, D. C.—That the United States is to become one of the greatest ship building nations in the world and that the Republicans will put legislation through Congress which will enable her to command the seas with her merchant marine, is the prediction made by Representative William S. Greene, of Massachusetts, chairman of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, which has been considering legislation to that end.

"Already we have lost valuable time and must move swiftly if we are to take the place in the world's markets which some of our leading industrial competitors have been forced to abandon," he declared. "If we do it now we can establish ourselves so firmly that we cannot be dislodged upon the full return of peace."

"The Shipping Board has recommended private ownership as a fundamental policy for commercial shipping. The Government should therefore contemplate retirement from commercial ship-building, ship-owning and ship-operating activities at the earliest date practicable, in order, first, to give our overseas trade the full benefit of competitive service, and second, to impart to present and prospective steamship operators that confidence which they must feel before they can be expected to place orders for new ships, without which the outlook for our ship-building industry will not be encouraging."

Mr. Greene said that with a view to paving the way for further shipping development, the committee has recommended legislation canceling the powers of the President over shipping, ending the dual control of this President and the Shipping Board, repealing the power to control ocean freights and charges, arranging for the sale of government-built ships, and regulating the terms of mortgages and payments by the purchasers, all with a view to encouraging private enterprise. Mr. Greene believes this legislation will be a great stimulant to the shipping industry.

"America must act quickly if it is to compete successfully with other nations," he continued. "If we act intelligently there is not the slightest doubt that we shall become one of the leading shipbuilding nations in the world. We will have the largest number of shipyards, the material and labor, and when our ship-building plants are completed we will not only produce ships to enable us to lead the commerce of the world, but will build ships in such large numbers and at such prices that we will become the Mecca of the ship-building trade of the world."

NEW WANTS AIR HEAD

Washington—The creation of a new Department of Air, the head of which shall have a seat in the President's cabinet, is provided in a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Harry New, of Indiana.

It is proposed by the Indiana Senator that it shall be the province of the Department of Air to develop and promote all matters pertaining to aeronautics, including the collection and dissemination of information relating to them; shall purchase, manufacture and maintain all aircraft for the United States; and shall perform all duties in relation to the air service which have heretofore been assigned to the War Post Office, Navy and Treasury Departments.

Included in the bill is a provision for the creation of an aeronautical academy, to correspond to those at West Point and Annapolis, for the training of cadets in the science of aeronautics.

Senator New is of the view that Great Britain, France and Japan are rapidly developing their aircraft, and that the United States, to keep pace with them, must also do so.

Probably no publication in the Western world has anything approaching the volume of circulation enjoyed by a certain Chinese almanac, printed in Peking. Each edition of the almanac consists of more than eight million copies, which are sent into the provinces, and so great is the interest taken by the Chinese in the publication, so high the confidence reposed in the information contained, that not a single copy is returned to the printers.

Must a Child Be Pale?

Pallor, "Tired-outness" and Poor Appetite Almost Always Remedied
Pepto-Mangan

It Builds Up the Blood and Thus Improves the Appetite and Strengthens the Body

There is but one legitimate excuse for a pale, run-down, listless child, and that is some serious disease of one or more of the vital organs, which, of course, needs the prompt attention of a competent physician. Unless such condition exists, the weak, white youngster who takes no pleasure in romping or playing can be very materially helped by a course of that thoroughly dependable blood enricher and general tonic, Gude's Pepto-Mangan. This standard remedy for Anemia (Bloodlessness) has been continuously prescribed by physicians all over the world for nearly thirty years, to restore the weakened, watery blood to its normal condition, and thus improve appetite, add color to pale lips and cheeks and impart strength to the whole body. Gude's Pepto-Mangan can be had in both liquid and tablet form (no difference in its effect), the liquid, of course, being preferable for young children. When buying Pepto-Mangan, be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.

EVIDENCE THAT CONVINCES

A Twice-Told Tale That Will Carry Conviction to Ledger Readers.

Fourteen years ago, Mrs. Burns publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. She then told of benefit she had received.

With unshaken confidence, Mrs. Burns confirms her statement—Tells how passing years have strengthened her faith in Doan's. There's no better test than the test of time. Can any Maysville reader ask for more convincing evidence? Mrs. John Burns, West Second Street, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and other kidney trouble. They would come on every three or six months and were times when I was confined to bed and rendered helpless. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and the quick and decided benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills was wonderful. I have never had such severe attacks since." (Statement given February 13, 1914.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE
On November 15, 1916, Mrs. Burns said: "I have the same good words of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills to-day, as ever. I have not needed a kidney medicine since I first took them." Good telephone service depends not only upon the telephone equipment and the skill and intelligence of the telephone employees, but also upon the co-operation of the telephone USERS. It is the responsibility of the calling person to be sure to give the operator the right number, speaking slowly and distinctly. The operator's responsibility is, in turn, to answer the caller's signal promptly and to give the desired connection quickly and accurately. Still further, the called person co-operates towards good service BY ANSWERING PROMPTLY; and each helps by speaking distinctly and by practicing courtesy and patience under all conditions.

U. S. SURGEON GENERAL ISSUES NATIONAL FLU WARNING

NINE HUNDRED CASES REPORTED TO THE U. S. HEALTH SERVICE.

Surgeon General Blue Issues Warning for People to Take Proper Precautions.

Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States public health service, wants the public and the authorities to be on guard against the recurrence this fall of the influenza epidemic. In a statement issued last week, he says that the most promising way to deal with this situation is expressed in the word "preparedness," and NOW is the time to prepare for the surgeon general added.

Dr. Otto Feler of Cincinnati, Secretary of the American Medical Association, says, "If you hope to keep your health this autumn, get yourself in the pink of physical condition, and take all possible precautions to avoid infection. The Flu is going to hit us again, and the amount of damage it will do depends largely upon how well we prepare for it. In the face of this certainty that we will have to combat influenza this fall, we are totally unprepared to do so."

Doctors are agreed that precautionary measures are more necessary than ever before. The secret of avoiding influenza is to keep the germs from lodging and developing in the respiratory organs—the mouth, nose and throat. The utmost cold, for colds weaken the resistance to influenza germs. No one should be allowed to breathe in your face because the germs are often a transmitted in this manner. Finally a good antiseptic should be used frequently. Physicians endorse the use of the antiseptics to protect the air passages. Turpo is an effective antiseptic, combining the old-fashioned remedies of turpentine, camphor and menthol in a pure mineral base. These ingredients have long been recognized as effective antiseptics, as well as having really wonderful quantities in relieving colds and congestion. As a preventive for Flu, sniff a little Turpo up the nostrils several times a day, and the Flu germs will have little chance of getting a lodging and breeding place. Many physicians and hospitals use and recommend Turpo.

The fact that for the week, there were nine hundred cases of influenza reported to the United Health Service makes it important that you prepare now. Buy a thirty-cent jar of Turpo of your druggist now while he has a supply on hand, and use as directed.

If in spite of all precaution, Spanish influenza develops, go to bed and summon a physician. Influenza is a serious malady, and requires the best medical attention.

Do your share in preventing the Flu.

HORD'S HILL RESIDENCE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Frame Residence Burns Early Saturday Evening—Fire Company Does Wonderful Work But Is Unable to Save Structure.

A frame residence owned by Attorney A. D. Cole and occupied by Frank Taylor, colored, and family on Hord's Hill was practically burned to the foundations early Saturday evening. It is thought that the fire originated from an overheated stove in the building.

The building was all frame and small and the flames had practically consumed it before the fire company arrived but it should be said to the credit of the company that they made a wonderful run and did splendid work. The driver of the machine on this run deserves special credit for the old machine pulled the hill with almost the same ease it travels over paved streets in the flat section of the city.

The family of the occupants was left in a destitute condition by the fire being without clothing except that which they wore but kindly neighbors looked after their immediate needs.

ENTIRE TRAIN IS STOLEN SUNDAY AT HILLSBORO, O.

Theft of Entire Railroad Train at Hillsboro Sunday Is or Equals by Theft of Steamboat Here Years Ago.

Hillsboro, Ohio, November 17.—An entire Baltimore and Ohio passenger train—engine, baggage car and coaches—was "stolen" Sunday by a former soldier, believed to be insane, who took a ride down the branch line toward Blanchester until the steam pressure was exhausted and the train stopped near Russell's Station, where the "wild" engineer was captured.

Efforts are being made to identify the prisoner, who is said to be John or Adam Barnes, of this vicinity. According to reliable reports Barnes first was seen seated in the smoking car about noon. The train had arrived from Blanchester and the crew was at dinner. Hillsboro is the end of the branch line and the train at 3 o'clock.

The watchman states that shortly after he saw Barnes in the coach his duties took him to the depot and a few minutes later, he says, he was astonished to hear a whistle from the engine. Rushing to the door he saw the train pulling out. The unusual occurrence attracted instant attention. A crowd took up the pursuit in automobiles, the train crew in the lead.

Telephone calls from villages along the line reported the train to be passing at tremendous speed, with the whistle apparently tied down, as it steadily shrieking alarmed the countryside. Near Russell's Station the steam pressure was exhausted.

Pursuers soon arrived on a handcar from a near-by section and invited the wild engineer to take a ride. He agreed and rode a handcar into Lynchburg, where he was detained until the arrival of Sheriff Ervin, of Hillsboro, who confined Barnes in jail. The train was not damaged and was brought back to Hillsboro and left on its regular schedule, although somewhat delayed. The prisoner tells confusing tales, also claiming to be John Barnes, of Akron.

His excuse for "stealing" the train is that he had an engagement in Newark and could not wait. Had he waited an hour a number of passengers would have been aboard the train. As it was, Barnes had his "wild" ride alone.
